A. James French Lecturer

Victor E. Reuter, M.D., Vice Chair, Department of Pathology, Director, Pathology Core Facility, Director, Genitourinary Pathology, Director, Genitourinary Pathology Fellowship, Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center, New York, New York

Conference Organizers

Jeffrey L. Myers, M.D., A. James French Professor and Director, Anatomic Pathology is an expert in diagnostic pathology and pulmonary pathology with specialized interest in the area of patient safety and practice innovation.

Joel K. Greenson, M.D., Professor of Pathology and the University of Michigan health System, is an alumni of the University of Michigan Medical School, with residency and fellowship training at Cedar-Sinai Medical Center and Johns Hopkins School of Medicine. His clinical and research interests are in gastrointestinal and liver pathology, infections and neoplasms of the liver and GI tract, inflammatory bowel disease and AIDS in the GI tract. He is past-President of the Gastrointestinal Pathology Society. His devotion to the field of GI Pathology may be viewed at: http://www.pathology.med.umich.edu/greensonlab/bluegenes/badliverredo.mov

Plenary Lecturers

Robert J. Penny, M.D., PhD, is the Founder and the CEO of Paradigm, a cutting-edge advanced diagnostics company that will help usher in the age of personalized medicine. Dr. Penny drove the vision and launch of the company, along with Dr. Hess the other founder at Michigan, to provide improved cancer treatments based on an individual's cancer's unique biology.